2007 Amazing Newborns Prematurity & Beyond

2007 HONORARY CHAIR

Glenda Robertson, RN, BSN, MA
Coordinator of Assessment
College of Adult and Graduate Studies
Colorado Christian University
Denver, Colorado

Glenda Robertson received her Bachelor of Science in Nursing from the University of New Mexico in 1997. She provided patient care in the NBICU at University of New Mexico Hospital and worked with new staff to help them develop the knowledge and skills needed to be effective NBICU nurses. It was through working with the new staff that Glenda's passion for teaching adults began. In 2002, she left bedside nursing and became the Neonatal Education Consultant for the UNM School of Medicine, Division of Neonatology's Neonatology Outreach Program. This new role allowed Glenda to focus on providing continuing education opportunities throughout New Mexico in the areas of neonatology and neonatal nursing. One of her responsibilities was to coordinate the planning, design, development, implementation, and evaluation of the Amazing Newborn Conference. In 2007, Glenda received her Master of Arts Degree in Organizational Learning and Instructional Technologies.

Glenda now lives in Denver, Colorado and continues to work with adult learners in her new role as the Coordinator of Assessment for Colorado Christian University's College of Adult and Graduate Studies. She sincerely thanks the 2007 Amazing Newborn Conference Planning Committee for nominating her as this year's Honorary Conference Chair. Glenda would also like to extend a large amount of gratitude to everyone who helped her pull together the conference year after year. To quote Helen Keller, "Alone we can do so little; together we can do so much."

PRE-CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the conference, the participant will more effectively...

- 1. promote communication between all members of the palliative care team, including medicine, nursing, social work, chaplaincy, nutrition and pharmacy to provide high quality palliative care for patients and their families;*
- 2. provide education to palliative care team members so that they can become an information resource for patients and their families;*
- 3. understand the psychosocial and spiritual concerns arising for individuals and families dealing with end of life issues;*
- 4. affirm the life of the patient by enhancing the quality of palliative care provided.*

CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the conference, the participant will more effectively...

- 1. discuss the emerging trends in maternal, neonatal, and pediatric care;*
- 2. describe common morbidities, treatment strategies, and current research associated with prematurity;*
- 3. apply learned clinical skills to the care of maternal, neonatal, pediatric patients and their families.*
