Friends Don't Let Friends Miss Head to Toe

If you know someone who would benefit from the information presented at the conference but isn't registered, don't let them be an april fool. You already know why it is important to come to this event, encourage your friends and colleagues to join you and enjoy:

- 60 breakout sessions spanning a variety of school health related topics
- Two keynote presentations from nationally renowned speakers
- An interactive panel with the state's leaders in education
- 40 exhibit booths with resources for school health professionals
- Up to 10.75 continuing education credit hours for social workers and counselors, or 12.9 for nurses
- Two days worth of networking time with over 700 of your peers

Forward the event web site address www.kessjones.com to friends and have them register today.

????? Question of the Day ?????

Laurie from Santa Fe asks: I'm still not sure if I can come to the conference, will there be any last minute discounts if I register on-site?

Unfortunately, no, in fact the price goes up if you register on-site. We want to be able to provide accurate counts to our vendors and we will close online registration on Friday, April 9. If you are unsure if you can attend, we advise you to register early to avoid the price raise. If you find you cannot attend, you can cancel up until April 6, and receive a refund, less an administrative fee. Another alternative is to send a substitute; substitutes are always accepted.
